Unfavorable Weather Causes Bulge, But More Disposition to Take Bear Side.

and in central sections of the beit led to active covering.

Realizing became heavier as October approached the 36-cent level and there were reactions lated n the morning, when trading was less active. May held up to 41-52 around midday or within 7 points of the early high level, but later months showed setbacks of some 20 to 35 moints with October selling down to 35-52. The official forecasts were for unsettled weather today, but suggested clearing conditions with rising temperatures at the end of the week, which probably increased the disposition to take profits on long contracts.

Fluctuations were somewhat irregular during the early afternoon, but profit taking for over the week end continued with October selling off to 55-56c, or about half a cent from the early high level, and within 17 points of last night's closing quotations.

Futures closed steady at advance of 25 to decline of 25 points.

Onen, High, Low, Today, Pre. Friday Afternoon, April 9. Weather over a large part of the belt was unfavorable over night and indications were for the precipitation indications were for the precipitation to extend eastward before the spell passed, resulting in another bulge in values during the early part of today's session and the recording of new high levels. There was additional shock to the outstanding shorts and some stimulus given to outside buying, but lots of realizing took place on the rise and reaction followed.

At the close New York futures stood 35 points up to 20 down and New Orleans 15 to 3 down, with tone called steady in both centers. The effect on the spot department was disappointing and quotations as a rule were without change, with volume of sales called strange, with volume of sales called that spiners are supplying incentive to the spot buying lends strength to the belief current in many directions that it is inspired largely by the widening of differences between spots and futures to the extent that deliveries are more probable, provided there is adjustment of labor troubles in time to get the cotton to New York. Many shrewd observers are confident that one source of selling of October is against purchases of the actual, assuming that the unfavorable weather and crop conditions will not last indefinitely.

Liverpool was due to come 21 to 8 points, but finished steady and 13 to 28 up, the larger gains being made by new crop months, reflecting the weather news in the beli. There continued little news from that direction, although the situation in Germany was not altogether encouraging. Liverpool forwarded rather heavily to the mills during the week, but sales of spots for the day were only 3,000 bales, including 2,800 American, quotations off 10 points, fully middling to 29.03d. Receipts were 34,000 bales, including 31,200 American, during the week hut sales of spots for the day were only 3,000 bales, including 31,200 American, during the weak hut sales of spots for the day were only 3,000 bales, including 31,200 American. Manchester cabled that cloths were quiet and unchanged, while there was little disposition to buy yarns.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON. NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, April 9,—The cotton market opened strong and active today with traders excited buyers on the heavy rains in the belt overnight, rainfall being heavy in many sections where excessive moisture in the soil has been complained of. In the first hour of trading prices were advanced 42 to 80 points, May rising to 41.20 and October to 35.80. October was the strongest month and the new crops were generally stronger than the old, reversing the order of things seen yesterday.

Realizing from the long side checked the advance and the forecast of fair weather to follow the rains over a good portion of the belt brought in fresh selling for short account. The market reacted rather sharply from the highest and late in the morning stood three points under to 16 points over the final prices of yesterday. May sold down to 40.75c and October to 25.15c.

Selling increased during the last hour of trading until the market was under considerable pressure. Toward the close the trading months were 8 points lower to 11 points higher than the final figures of yesterday. A fairly steddy tone persisted, apparently because of expectations that the house would pass the peace resolution.

Spots closed steady and unchanged; ordinary, 25c; good ordinary, 25c; low middling, 32.20c; middling, 41.50c; good middling, 45c. Sales on the spot, 1,267; to arrive, 631.

Futures closed steady at advance of 15 to decline of three points.

The weather news induced the firm opening in the domestic markets, rains being reported from the eastern section of Texas and over the entire central belt, with chances for them to continue during the day to the Aflantic seaboard. Texas did not get them where needed, as clearing skies indicated that good weather might follow the rains, which were not generally expected. May opened at 41.25c. July at 39.29c and October at 35.75c. All soon went higher, the top being 41.75c, 39.67c and 35.95c, respectively, after which more or less realizing was done, especially in the fall and winter months. July reacted to 39.05c, but closed a little better. October reacted to about last night's closing, but was fairly well supported. Sentiment was more confused as the prospect was for better weather and the discounting process has gone quite a way without stirring up much interest in spots, which are said to be showing weakness in certain hands in some markets. kets.

The weekly statistics were bullish and encouraged some support. Hesser made movement into sight 155,000 bales, com-pared with 110,000, and figured takings by spinners at 204,000, compared with 133,000. More Caution Displayed in Early Trading Encouraged by Spread of Strike.

NEW YORK, April 9.—An undercur-rent of caution pervaded the stock market at the irregular opening of to-day's session. This was attributed in large part to overnight developments, particularly the spread of the railroad to prices above the best of the morning. Steels, equipments and motors continued to sustain the general list in the more active trading of the last hour, some of those insues extending precious gains. The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Range of prices on the New York stock exchange, with previous closing bids, furnished by Shepard & Gluck, Falls building.

Higher Corn and Oats Prices
Largely Due to Services Railroad Strike.

GRAIN MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 9.—Corn advanced in price today largely as a result of the continued spread of the railway strike. Opening prices which varied from the decline to $1.50 and advance, with May $1.52½ to $1.57% were followed by material gains all around. Indications of a big export demand for wheat and rye led subsequently to additional upturns in the corn market, and so, too, did the fact that oats were commanding the highest prices yet this season. The close was strong, 1% to $1.56% and July $1.50% to $1.56% to $1.56% and July $1.50% to $1.56% and July $1.50% to $1.50%. Oats showed relatively greater strength than corn. After opening $4c lower to $5c advance, including July at $35% to $25% the market scored a decided general upturn.

Exchange Refuses To Accept Ryan Terms For Shorts In Stutz

NEW YORK, April 2 — The New York stock exchange today started an investigation of this week's trading in Stromberg Carburetor and refused to accept Alian A. Ryan's terms for settlement with other members of the exchange who were short in Stutz Motor when trading in the latter was suspended by the exchange. Both Stromberg and Stutz are controlled by Ryan. The committee on business conduct of the exchange ordered mergbers to report immediately all their transactions in Stromberg from Monday to Thursday inclusive with prices and names of customers.

Stutz was quoted at 521 when trading was suspended. Recently it sold at auction at 791. Stromberg opened at 110 today, then declined eight points.
